```
Top level exception handler
                                                                                           construct continuation object:
                                                                                           resume
     try { topLevel() }
    catch (ContinuationException ce) { k = ce.continuation; resume(k); }
                                                                                                  save call to f
            try { ... f() ... }
topLevel:
            catch (ContinuationException ce) { ce.extend(topLevel); throw ce; }
                                                                                                        save call to q
                       try { ... g() ... }
                                                                                                                save call to catch (ContinuationException ce) { ce.extend(f); throw ce; } continuation
                              try { ... call/cc(h) ... } throw
                              catch (ContinuationException ce) { ce.extend(g); throw ce; } exception
                                                                                                                       save call to h
                                                          ce.extend(h); throw ce;
                      call/cc:
                                                               h(k)
```